James Bowman Helps Shuck Corn
At Age of 90

THIS AND THAT: We are all getting older and the tasks get harder as time goes by.

Exceptions come along and apparently James Bowman of Muddy is one of them.

Mr. Bowman has been out picking and shucking corn these past days and he'll be 90 years old in July.

His son put out the crop and now he's helping his son with the harvest.

This should be headed "Wild-life Near Eldorado," I guess, but we'll get right into the story. I see in the Eldorado Journal that John Gwaltney, Eldorado poultry house operator, killed a grey female wolf Sunday while quail hunting six miles north of Eldorado.

He said his hunting dog ran the wolf out of a thicket and across his path, that he shot it with his shotgun.

With Christmas 17 days away and it's time to get ourselves in the mood for the season, let us look back at Christmas in colonial times.

Taken from Sunshine Magazine is the following:

"Back in the early 1700's, when the United States were the Colonies, the settlers in Williamsburg, capital of Colonial Virginia, celebrated Christmas with the customs they had brought from England. There was no Santa Claus (a Dutch tradition), no Christmas tree (a German tradition) and no chimney stockings (an American adaptation).

"Christmas in Colonial Williamsburg was primarily a holy day, but the atmosphere was not solemn. Churches and homes were decorated with greens, while candles burned in all the windows and welcomed carolers.

"There was public celebration, too. Musicians played special concerts, and fireworks and cannon were exploded to heighten the general merriment. Feasting of the groaning board variety, was in order, with dishes of roasted fowl and hare, marrow pudding, ham, oysters, sausage, shellfish, often capped by a whole roast boar on a platter. Some gifts were given then as a part of the Christmas celebration, but not nearly on the present-day scale.

"Today in Williamsburg a visitor can turn back the calendar two centuries and celebrate Christmas much as the colonists did. The old capital has been restored as closely as possible to its pre-Revolutionary appearance, and at Christmas time many of the old customs are carried out. Most familiar to twentieth-century Americans would be caroling and the burning of the Yule log."

Korea War Vet Questioned in Boys' Murder

CHICAGO (UP)—A young Korean war veteran, already questioned and released in Michigan, faced more grilling on the horror slaying of three young Chicago boys here today.

The veteran, 23-year-old Donald Moser, was re-arrested at Holly, Mich., late Wednesday and was brought to Chicago at the request of sheriff's police.

Moser already had undergone intensive questioning at Pontiac, Mich., concerning the Oct. 16 murders. But he was released when Chicago city police indicated they were sure he had nothing to do with the crime.

Lt. Patrick Clary of the Cook county Chicago sheriff's police then asked for the re-arrest and said Moser showed surprising knowledge of the slayings when he was questioned again.

Urges Delegates To Take Active Part in Politics

Resolutions Critical
To Administration
Indicate Demo Support

NEW YORK (UP)—Adlai E. Stevenson appealed today for the support of labor in his political ambitions in an address prepared for delivery to the new AFL-CIO labor organization.

He urged the delegates of 16 million members of the AFL-CIO to take an active part in politics and said that democracy needs all the political participation it can get out of just as many individuals and just as many responsible groups as is possible.

"Like you," he said, "I have been astonished by some worried declarations I've heard in the last few days about the dangers of an unlimited franchise for working people and their organizations."

Stevenson emphasized that he had "hopes" the new labor organization would support him fully in the coming campaign.

In the field closest to the hearts of labor men, he said that many of the provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act are "inequitable or unworkable."

"They must be changed or removed," he said.

Stevenson denounced the so-called right to work laws, now in effect in 17 states.

"The laws must be fair to all," he said, "and the so-called right-to-work laws do not meet this test."

Stevenson said steps must be taken to strengthen the American way of life. He said this means making more secure the right of labor to organize and to bargain collectively—"to make democracy work in the plant, in the shop, on the job, in people's daily working lives."

Stevenson was the second Democrat of national stature to appear before the joint convention and he made a point of praising New York Gov. Averell Harriman, who appeared earlier.

"Since the disturbing state of the world has been discussed so ably and so recently by the distinguished governor of New York let me only say here today that it seems to me among the brightest promises of this new federation that the powers and resources of American labor for peace may now be even more fully mobilized," Stevenson said.

Resolutions Criticize Policy

The AFL-CIO indicated possible support for the Democrats in 1956 Wednesday when it adopted a number of resolutions criticizing administration policy.

One accused the administration of making only "grudging, piecemeal and belated efforts" to correct abuses in the security program.

Another urged the United States, Great Britain and France to enable Israel to obtain arms and other materials.

The new union went far toward eliminating discord within its ranks Wednesday in the formation of the 700,000 member Industrial Union Division with Walter P. Reuther at its head.

Grade Cards Issued

Grade cards for the second period of the current school term were issued today to Harrisburg Township high school students.

Doctor Admits Drugging Self and Wife Shortly Before Her Death

CHICAGO (UP)—Dr. Hobart H. Todd, accused of slaying his wealthy wife, has admitted he drugged both her and himself with morphine shortly before her death, a coroner's investigator said today.

It was the first official confirmation that Todd had administered morphine instead of nembital, as previously reported.

Harry J. Glos, chief investigator for the coroner's office, said the 43-year-old doctor told him he administered the morphine injections last Saturday, a few hours before his wife's body was found in their $40,000 suburban Skokie home.

He gave her two injections, each consisting of a quarter grain of morphine, and administered a single dose to himself, Glos quoted Todd.

Todd said he used the morphine because his wife "was in such a terrible state of nervousness," according to Glos.

One Dead, Three Missing as Navy Jet Crashes Into Chesapeake Bay

PATUXENT, Md. (UP)—The first model of a revolutionary Navy jet bomber, considered the potential forerunner of an atomic-powered airplane, exploded and crashed in flames into Chesapeake Bay Wednesday.

A salvage barge began pulling wreckage from 55-foot deep waters of the bay today. Divers searched for the bodies of the missing men.

The plane was the 600-mile-an-hour Seamaster, powered by four turbojet engines and only recently ordered into production at the Glenn L. Martin Co. of Baltimore.

A salvage barge began pulling wreckage from 55-foot deep waters of the bay today. Divers searched for the bodies of the missing men. The Navy had fostered great hopes for the new plane. It was hailed as the world's first multi-jet seaplane and compared favorably in range and speed with modern land-based bombers.

The Air Force was interested in the Seamaster as possibly being capable of carrying the first atomic plane engine when it is developed. An atomic plane would require an extremely heavy airframe and broad areas for take-off and landings. The Seamaster would have almost limitless ocean runways on which to operate.

Navy investigators began an intensive effort to determine why the first model crashed.

A second Seamaster, fitted out with complete military equipment, will be ready to enter the water for initial taxiing tests near Maryland's Patuxent plant later this month. A company spokesman said he saw no immediate reason to postpone the tests.

Maryland state police identified the man whose body was recovered as James Hentschel of Baltimore, flight test engineer.

The Navy identified the missing as Maurice Bernhard of Towson, Md., the pilot; Herbert Scudder of Chase, Md., senior flight engineer, and Lt. Cmdr. Victor Utgoff of the Patuxent Naval Air Station, Navy project officer.

Hentschel was thrown clear of the plane when it exploded. His parachute opened as he fell but his head apparently was crushed when he was thrown from the plane.

The Seamaster crashed six miles south of Point Lookout, Md., just below where the Potomac River enters the bay. It was on a routine test flight from the Martin plant.

D. H. Buus, control tower operator at Webster Field, an auxiliary field near Patuxent Naval Air Base, said the huge seaplane exploded at an altitude of about 5,000 feet.

Buus, who watched through field glasses, said:

"All of a sudden there was a flash and then flames, sort of in combination and right behind the two starboard engines. They had exploded. Then, almost right after, the engines of the other side blew up."

He said the plane then "just nosed over and went straight down."

'Get Out and Hit The Ball,' GM Advises Dealers

WASHINGTON (UP)—The General Motors Corp. has this word for its dealers who are not doing so well in the present highly competitive auto market: Get out and hit the ball.

GM officials also started offering today a detailed, case-by-case defense to dealers' charges of unfair treatment. The charges were made in previous testimony before a Senate Monopoly subcommittee investigating the giant auto concern.

William F. Hufstader, GM vice president and sales manager, gave the first reply to M. H. Yager, an Albany, N. Y., Pontiac dealer, who last Friday accused GM President Harlow H. Curtice of being an "arrogant dictator."

Yager also asserted that GM dealers are subjected to constant factory pressure to sell more and more new cars even if it involves exaggerated trade-ins, extremely easy credit terms, and other unsound business practices. His testimony was similar to that of other GM dealer witnesses, most of whom had lost their franchises.

Hufstader told the subcommittee that Yager devotes only half his time to his auto business although his new car sales have been declining for the past two years. Nevertheless, Yager's profits have been averaging $9,000 a month this year, Hufstader said.

Hufstader had testified previously that complaining dealers should blame themselves for not preparing for the time "when customers ceased walking into their stores clamoring to have their names put on an order blank."

WASHINGTON (UP)—The U. S. Chamber of Commerce said today that record Christmas buying may push retail sales this year to a new high of 185 billion dollars. This would be 15 billion dollars above last year's sales.

Investigate Note Threatening HTHS Teacher

Was Wrapped Around
Rock, Hurlled Through Window of Home

Investigation of an incident a week ago in which a threatening note was hurled through the window of a Harrisburg Township high school faculty member's place of residence continued today.

The threat was written on one-inch adhesive tape, which was wrapped around a rock and thrown through the glass of the window at the room where she lived. It threatened death if the woman teacher did not resign and leave and was signed "The Blackhaws."

The incident occurred a week ago last night.

Investigations are being made by the city police department and through school channels. It was learned that if the identities are not learned soon, there is a possibility that outside agencies which have scientific detection methods available may be brought into the case.

There were rumors this morning that the perpetrators had given themselves up to school authorities after a check at the high school revealed that this was not a fact.

"So far no identities have been disclosed," E. F. Henson, principal of HTHS, declared this morning.

Mr. Henson spoke to the morning student body Tuesday morning, telling them that those who had committed the act had done more than violate a regulation of the school, that it was a matter in which civil authorities were interested because it involved the destruction of property and a threat.

He told them that it was not a matter to be joked about by any student, that it was regrettable that such a thing involving the school had happened.

The victims, all Negroes, were identified as Mrs. Lucille Griffin, 34; her son, Pless Michael Griffin Jr., 23 months; Otto Harrison, 33; his wife, Paulina, 31, and their two children, Geraldine, 8, and Dolores, 3.

Mrs. Griffin's husband, Pless, 38, suffered from shock and severe hand burns and was taken to Receiving Hospital.

Fund for the Republic Draws Criticism from Henry Ford II

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Paul Hoffman, board chairman of the Fund for the Republic, today defended the controversial fund against the criticism of Henry Ford II.

Hoffman refused to take direct issue with Ford but said "anyone who will review the record of the Fund of the Republic will agree it has made important contributions through educational means."

Ford has mildly criticized the fund's activities by saying he found them "dubious."

Hoffman said the fund's contributions were:

1. Acquiring knowledge that will assist us in fighting communism more effectively.

2. Promoting understanding of the vital role which civil liberties have played in giving strength to our society.

3. Helping bring about appreciation of the need of making a reality out of the goal of equality of opportunity through promoting better racial relations.

The national commander of the American Legion said Wednesday night it was "reassuring" to hear Henry Ford II question the judgment of executives of the fund.

J. Addington Wagner of Battle Creek, Mich., said "Mr. Ford, in the American Legion's belief, has made a necessary and commendable move in the right direction."

The Legion has frequently issued bitter criticism of the fund, which was set up by the Ford Foundation, charging that it pictured communism as not being a serious threat.

Herman Yahne, 75, life long resident of Stonefort, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Milburn, near Carrier Mills, at 12 noon Wednesday.

He is survived by his wife, Lillie Blackman Yahne; one daughter, Mrs. Annis Milburn, Carrier Mills, and three sons, Roy Yahne, Carrier Mills, and Xelpho and Claude Yahne, both of Stonefort, two stepchildren, Mrs. Sybil Passmore, Eldorado, and Billy Kelly, Creal Springs RFD; nine grandchildren and one great-grandson.

The funeral will be Friday at 2 p. m. at the Stonefort General Baptist church. Rev. Walter Holmes will officiate and burial will be in Little Saline cemetery near Stonefort.

The body was taken this afternoon from the Thornton funeral home in Stonefort to the home of the daughter, Mrs. Milburn, to lie in state.

Mother in Iron Lung 17 Months To Return Home

EDINBURG, Ill. (UP)—Mrs. Trella Housel who has spent the last 17 months in an iron lung will be home for Christmas with her five children.

Mrs. Housel, a widow, was stricken with polio July 17, 1954. She was taken to St. John's Hospital, Springfield, where she was placed in an iron lung.

Mrs. Housel's fifth child was born to her in the lung, shortly after she entered the hospital. She remained in the lung at St. John's for a year, then was transferred to the respirator clinic of the University of Illinois Medical School at Chicago.

She spent five months in the lung at the respirator center, one of 14 in the United States supported with the aid of grants from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The Christian County chapter of the foundation has paid the entire cost of Mrs. Housel's care. It will also provide a chest respirator, a rocking bed and a full-time attendant so Mrs. Housel will be able to remain at home.

Mrs. Housel is now able to spend about 4½ hours at a time outside an iron lung.

She will arrive home from Chicago Saturday to be greeted by her five children.

Holds Private Talk with Hughes And Humphrey

Believe Eisenhower
Urged to Omit Tax Relief in Messages

THURMONT, Md. (UP)—President Eisenhower met today with his top money men today to consider delaying any recommendations for tax cut until mid-spring.

Mr. Eisenhower drove here from his Gettysburg, Pa., farm for a private talk with Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey and Budget Director Rowland R. Hughes in advance of the weekly meeting of the National Security Council.

Informed sources said Humphrey and Hughes came to the meeting prepared to urge that Mr. Eisenhower omit any proposals for tax relief from his messages to Congress in January.

The two officials were said to believe that the administration should hold off tax cut proposals until spring, at least, to make sure that a balanced budget is in sight for the new fiscal year starting next July 1.

Secretaries to Meet

Mr. Eisenhower arrived at his mountain retreat here at 7:48 a. m. CST, and went into immediate conference with Humphrey and Hughes.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, whose departments handle the foreign aid and military programs that account for the biggest share of the budget, and Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams, sat in on the tax talk, which lasted for about an hour.

Mr. Eisenhower and the other officials then walked 200 yards to Laurel Lodge, a larger cabin, to meet with the National Security Council. Mr. Eisenhower invited the council members to be his guests at lunch after the meeting.

Any delay in administration requests for a tax cut could be expected to set off a sharp political debate. Both parties want quick action on a tax cut as a politically strategic move with the voters for the 1956 presidential campaign.

Democrats Favor Revision

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) already has said that "tax revision to benefit the low income groups" would be part of the legislative program which the Democrats hope to put over in Congress.

There has been speculation that the administration would propose giving lower income groups higher tax exemptions, coupled with tax relief for those in higher brackets.

The President will drive back to his Gettysburg farm tonight after his Security Council session. He will return to the presidential retreat Friday for cabinet meeting and drive to Washington on Saturday.

Rites Friday for Frank P. Thompson

Funeral services for Frank P. Thompson, well known Brushy resident who died yesterday at 7:15 a. m. in the Lightner hospital, will be Friday at 2 p. m. at the Liberty church southwest of Harco. Rev. Harrison Peyton, assisted by Rev. Paul Dann, will officiate and burial will be in the church cemetery. The Courtney funeral home is in charge.

Rites Friday for Mrs. Mamie Clayton

Funeral services for Mrs. Mamie Clayton, 69, former resident of Harrisburg who died at 5:30 a. m. yesterday morning in the Lightner hospital, will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at the Keathly funeral home. Rev. Charles Williams will officiate and burial will be in Sunset Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Clayton was born May 3, 1886, in Louisville, Ky. She formerly lived in Harrisburg, moving to Freeman, Ill., approximately 20 years ago. She had been staying at the home of her granddaughter, Wilma Jackson Morgan, in Harrisburg.

She leaves four grandchildren: Wilma Jackson Morgan, Harrisburg, Miss Marvel Jackson and Miss Loretta Jackson, both of Downey, Ill., and Cornelius Sylvester Jackson who is serving with the armed forces in England, and two brothers, Clint Williams and William Bartley, both of Los Angeles, Calif.

Our Schools

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT
If there were not a genuine crisis in America's school system, there would have been no need to call a White House Conference in Education. The problems are painfully real, and they grow in magnitude each day.

Basically they fall into two categories:

1. Shortages of schools and teachers in the face of steadily rising school enrollments.
2. Serious confusion over the questions of what to teach and how to teach it.

Let's look at the shortages. With present school enrollment of 39.5 million, we are already short 141, 000 teachers and tens of thousands of classrooms.

According to the U. S. Office of Education, in another 10 years there will be 11 million additional pupils in our schools. For just the first half of that period—the next five years—we'll need 1,047,410 new teachers and 476,000 new classrooms above and beyond the current lack.

The financial burden of providing these facilities—if they are to be provided—is staggering. Where is the money to come from?

The country is putting up near 2.4 billion dollars worth of new schools this year, but as we have seen, it isn't enough to keep pace.
The appallingly low state of teachers' salaries is further evidence that the money going to the schools is insufficient.

Today the states pay more than half the school bill, and local communities the rest. But the states say they can no longer shoulder the growing load. Out of this dilemma has risen the cry for federal aid.

President Eisenhower told the White House conference he's for limited federal aid, particularly in areas where people can't afford to build the schools and hire the teachers they need.

But basically he thinks financing and running the schools is a state-local job. Like many educators and others, he fears federal help might mean federal control of education.

Nevertheless, some form of federal assistance seems almost inevitable. Few imagine that state and local governments can pay for the 50 to 110 per cent hike in school costs which the experts foresee by 1965.

If the alternative is to doom millions of children to overcrowded classrooms manned by poor teachers, the American people will find a way to provide help without compromising the freedom that marks their vaunted school system.

A higher proportion of eligible American youngsters go to high school and college now than ever before in our history. Coupled with other factors this has brought us to a record level of education.

But is the education we provide really good enough to assure the health and growth of a great democracy? In an able, comprehensive survey of our school problems, Newsweek magazine suggests there may be serious flaws.

It notes the major criticisms:
too much emphasis on "adjusting" pupils to their group rather than developing their full individual talents; too much attention to mere methods rather than subject matter; too much stress on teaching practical living techniques that ought to be learned outside school.

In an age when knowledge, especially scientific training, is more valuable than ever in leading people to fruitful work, half our high schools don't teach physics, a fourth neither physics nor chemistry, a fourth no geometry, and nearly half no foreign languages at all. These are astounding figures.

In the struggle with communism, scientific study and its application may spell survival or ruin for the free world.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: At Least One Republican, Gov.
Knight Of California, Isn't Afraid To Campaign: GOP
Plans To Spend $10,000,000 On Television In '56 Campaign; Joe O'Mahoney, Champion Of Little Man, Steps On Biggest Salaried Businessman.

WASHINGTON. — California's
ebullient Governor "Goody" Knight is one man who is frankly campaigning for the GOP presidential nomination, undaunted by reports that he will or won't.
Furthermore, he is actually trying to line up a vice-presidential running mate.

Knight recently sent a political emissary to invite Maryland's Gov. Ted McKeldin to be his vice president. Startled, McKeldin expressed doubt as to whether the emissary really spoke for Knight.

Later the Maryland governor got a long-distance call from New York.

"The governor of New York is calling," announced the operator.

Puzzled as to why New York's Governor Ave Harriman, a Democrat, should be phoning a Republican, McKeldin picked up the phone.

"This is Goody Knight," boomed a vigorous voice. "I'm in New York."

"I want you to know that fellow who came to see you speaks for me," said the governor of California, confirming the invitation to McKeldin to run as vice president on a Knight-McKeldin ticket.

Note — McKeldin indicated that he thought it was too early for him to line up politically for 1956, much as he appreciated the honor.

GOP TAKES TO TV
GOP Chairman Len Hall has big plans for 1956. The $2,000,000 TV budget which he mentioned at last week's Chicago Republican rally was only one-fifth the figure which he actually discussed behind closed doors.

His real plans include a staggering $10,000,000 to be spent on TV advertising before the campaign is over. The $2,000,000 figure for TV will be put up by the Republican National committee, congressional campaign committee, and citizens for Eisenhower organization which are limited by law to $3,000,000 campaign expenses each.

The balance will be raised by GOP front groups to be formed especially for the campaign and which will pass into oblivion as soon as the election is over.

To mastermind this TV campaign, the Republicans will use four big Madison Avenue public relations firms — Batten, Barton, Durstine and Osborn, which already works with the Republican National committee; Seligman and Lee; Carl Byoir and Associates; and J. Walter Thompson. Seligman and Lee is headed by Jim Seligman, who waged such a bitter campaign in New Jersey against anti-McCarthy Sen. Clifford Case whom Eisenhower made a special trip to help.

Note — Despite their expected $10,000,000 bank roll, however, the

JOE O'MAHONEY'S TACTICS

Three years ago, Sen. Joe O'Mahoney of Wyoming, Democrat, was defeated for the Senate and, at the age of 70, had to scratch around to make a living. Making a living at that age is not easy, and Joe, always an idealist, always a champion of the little fellow, took some very unpopular and unprofitable cases, such as that of Owen Lattimore, which he won.

Then last year he was re-elected to the Senate in a campaign during which all sorts of big eastern Republican money was poured into Wyoming to beat him.

Joe is not a vengeful person. But if he believed in revenge, last week he got it. For he kept the head of the world's biggest corporation waiting before his committee while he listened to some of the little General Motors dealers who hitherto hadn't been able to talk to the man they worked for.

Harlow Curtice, head of General Motors, is paid an annual salary of $686,100. The night before testifying before Joe O'Mahoney's committee, Curtice's high-power publicly advisers had sent out a thick, neatly printed statement of what the GM head was going to say. It was sent by messenger to every newspaper office. Some press associations even had part of his statement already written when the hearings opened.

But they had to hold it up. For Curtice wasn't allowed to talk. Joe O'Mahoney, who one year ago was out of a Senate job, held Curtice, who makes $686,100 a year, waiting while he listened to the complaints of small General Motors dealers against the head of General Motors.

CHAMPAIGN MAN Disarmed When He Pulls Gun on Cops

CHICAGO (UP)—Donald J. Kramer, 32, Champaign, pulled a gun on two police officers when they tried to arrest him on a traffic charge early today, police said.

The officers said they also found a second gun in the auto and investigation showed that the car had been stolen. Kramer and his wife, Patricia, 28, were held on charges of carrying concealed weapons, reckless driving, driving without a license, and resisting arrest.

Policeman Hank Davis said he spotted Kramer driving his car in the wrong lane of traffic on a South Side street. Kramer ignored Davis' command to halt and the policeman then stopped another car which was driven by a park policeman.

The two policemen said they chased Kramer's car for more than 15 blocks before curbing it. Kramer pulled a gun on them, they said, but they grabbed it from him. The officers charged that Kramer then tried to bribe them.

State Report Shows Drop in Unemployment

CHICAGO (UP)—A state report on the Illinois labor market said today that the employment outlook for the next several months "indicates a continued high level in manufacturing."

However, the report said that employment would fall off in non-manufacturing enterprises "resulting from post holiday layoffs in retail trade and seasonal slowdowns in construction and other outdoor activities."

The report by the Illinois State Employment Service and the Division of Unemployment Compensation called the drop in unemployment from mid-July to mid-September "precipitous."

"Unemployment in the state made a sharp descent," the agencies said, "dropping from a mid-July total of 166,000 including 83,
000 women to 117,000 including 54,000 women in mid-September."

In that period, unemployment in downstate Illinois fell by more than 30 per cent, from 59,000 to 40,000.

The report made these observations on the outlook prospects for "Employment prospects for major downstate areas, during the next several months since mid-September are regarded as good, although Peoria and the Illinois section of St. Louis anticipate moderate declines shortly after the first of the year."

"In the Davenport-Rock Island-Moline area, a return to normalcy following the settlement of a work stoppage in the farm machinery industry is expected to boost factory employment and partially offset a seasonal decrease in non-manufacturing activities.

"Stepped-up hiring by factories producing durable goods will lift employment to slightly above current levels at Joliet, Aurora, and Rockford."

Gov't Reports Income Up Except Farmers

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Commerce Department reported today that Americans took home more money in their pay envelopes and collected more rent, interest and dividends in October than ever before.

But farmers' income declined, the department's office of business economics said.

The department said personal income — wages, salaries, rent, interest and dividends — if continued for a full year at the October rate, would total $309,600, 000,000. It was the sixth straight month in which personal income remained above the $300,000,000 mark.

Wages and salaries were paid out at an annual rate of $213,600, 000,000, a $1,200,000,000 increase over September.

Agricultural income was at an annual rate of $14,800,000,000. This was a drop of $100,000,000 from September.

Personal interest income and dividend receipts rose $400,000, 000 to an all-time high annual rate of $27,500,000,000. Proprietors' and rental income was up $100,000,000 to a $49,800,000,000 annual rate, also a record.

Auto Parts Yard Employee Burned Seriously

EAST ST. LOUIS — A 66-year-old Venice, Ill., man was burned seriously early today in a spectacular fire near here.

The victim was Granville Harris, an employee of the C. H. Roseman auto parts yard on U. S. 50 north of East St. Louis.

Fire broke out in the yards and sent flames into the sky which were visible as much as three miles away.

NAM Chief Says Gov't Biggest Sucker, Meddler

NEW YORK (AP)—Col. G. Parker, the man slated to head the National Association of Manufacturers in 1956, today called Uncle Sam "the biggest sucker and the biggest meddler."

Parker told the 60th Congress of American Industry, sponsored by the NAM, that reliance on government is "an insidious disease" that robs men of their individual freedoms.

"We have gone completely overboard on security," he said in a prepared speech.

"Everything has to be secured, jobs, wages, hours — although the ultimate in security is jail, the slave labor camp and the salt mine."

Parker, a leading constitutional lawyer, served on President Eisenhower's Commission on Foreign Economic Policy.

The retired president and chairman of Kimberly-Clark Corp. said "it is never too late to revive the personal practice of freedom."

He urged the nation "to stop relying on the Great White Father, who has nothing to give except what he took away from us in the first place."

Citing statistics to emphasize the centralization of power in the federal government over the years, Parker declared:

"Uncle Sam is the biggest landowner, the biggest house builder, the biggest employer, the biggest banker and insurance company, the biggest consumer, the biggest borrower and the biggest lender, the biggest defaulter and the biggest spender, the biggest sucker and the biggest meddler."

Plane Crashes at Sea; Rescue 3 of Crew; 7 Missing

HONOLULU, T. H. (AP)—A two-engine Navy patrol bomber with a crew of 10 crashed at sea 26 miles off shore of Kauai Island late Wednesday night and a submarine picked up three survivors.

An air-sea search was manned immediately for the remaining crewmen, but search commanders held little hope of finding the other seven until sun-up.

The three survivors were identified as Lt. K. C. Guedel, Dover, Ohio, the pilot of the downed P2V; Lt. (jg) E. F. O'Malley, Chicago, co-pilot; and the navigator, Lt. (jg) Robert S. Smith, Montgomery, Ala.

Two of the survivors needed medical attention and were returned to Pearl Harbor.

The plane crashed while on a routine training mission with seven submarines.

Meanwhile, a search continued for two Marine dive bomber pilots lost on a routine training flight Tuesday night on Oahu Island.

Democrats Step Up Blasts At Administration Foreign Policy, Secretary Dulles

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats stepped up their attack on administration foreign policy and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. One asked President Eisenhower to fire Dulles.

Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-N.Y.) demanded Dulles' ouster on grounds that his usefulness ended when he angered India with a recent reference to Goa as a "Portuguese province." Goa, controlled by Portugal, is on the Indian subcontinent and is claimed by India.

"Dulles has lost for the United States" a greater part of Africa and Asia, including India, and "a greater part of the Muslim world in Morocco and Egypt," Powell said.

New York Gov. Averell Harriman, potential Democratic presidential candidate, also took a slap at Dulles. He said:

"Mr. Dulles did our country a great disservice when he unnecessarily associated himself with the Portuguese in India's dispute with Portugal over Goa."

"This happened just at the moment when the excessive statements of (Communist party boss Nikita) Khrushchev were beginning to arouse antagonism in India," Harriman said. "Dulles came along and got him out of that trouble and turned the Indian resentment against us."

Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) said he agreed "absolutely" with the New York governor.

Noted Composer Is 90 Years Old

HELSINKI, Finland (AP)—Jean Sibelius, one of the greatest composers of modern times, is 90 years old today. The world's music lovers celebrated his birthday but he did not.

Sibelius likes no fanfare. "I am nothing myself," he was reported to have said. "It is my music. They have my music so why should I appear myself?"

The great composer has produced nothing since his seventh symphony in 1925. Rumors that he has completed another symphony but will not have it performed until after his death have not been verified.

Friends said he believed he had completed his life work at 60 and decided to stop composing rather than produce secondary music.

Suspect Red Bomb Plot in Apartment Blast

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—West German authorities expressed suspicion today that a Communist bomb plot may have been responsible for an apartment house explosion that took at least 27 lives Wednesday.

Federal authorities ordered autopsies performed on the victims and close questioning of the survivors. Federal German police and bomb experts joined state and city officials in combing through the wreckage of the five-story building for clues.

The cause of the blast that brought the building crashing down on its slumbering occupants was not yet determined. The possibility of a political plot was not ruled out.

Suspicion was aroused by the fact that all but two couples living in the building were refugees from Communist-controlled East Prussia and the Sudetenland.

The owner of the apartment house was identified today as a heavy financial contributor to the right wing Slovak refugee committee whose leader was killed by a mailed bomb last July in Munich.

Police also were investigating three other possible causes: Leaking gas, faulty oil-heating system, or an undiscovered bomb left over from World War II.

Big Ten Schools Receive $600,000 Jackpot for Televised Football Games

CHICAGO — Big Ten members cut up a football television jackpot of more than $600,000 for the 1955 season, it was learned today, with each school due to receive something more than $60,000 for its portion of the proceeds.

The member schools appeared on television 14 times, on eight of the nine Saturdays on which the conference played, and received slightly more than $300,000 for displaying five games on regional video.

Four appearances in national shows provided nearly another $300,000.

The conference television committee met Wednesday night as a prelude to the annual December meetings of the league and will report to the athletic directors today.

Would Clarify Iowa Situation

Though the report was not made public, it was understood the committee had no major complaints about the operation of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. plan this year. However, the conference wanted clarification of the current regional pattern under which all of Iowa but Cedar Rapids is classed in NCAA Region 5 with Cedar Rapids in Region 4, the Big Ten area.

Money from the television appearances was received from sponsoring networks. CBS under contract handled the regional games and NBC handled the national games. Hence both groups made payments to the conference.

The division of receipts was agreed upon earlier by the conference when members voted to yield their television rights to the conference for package sale.

Under the pre-season agreement, total receipts will be divided equally regardless of the number of appearances by any school.

Northwestern was the only member which did not appear. Ohio State made one national appearance and Indiana, Purdue and Illinois one regional appearance. Minnesota and Wisconsin each appeared twice regionally and Michigan State, Michigan and Iowa each made one regional and one national appearance.

Athletic directors were expected to hear a report on basketball television today also as well as reports from coaches and other groups. They also will review policies on films for television.

Big 10 Coaches Vote to Request More Grid Games

CHICAGO — Big Ten football coaches were on record today in favor of more games.

The coaches at their annual December meeting voted to request the conference athletic directors to permit 10 game schedules and advance the opening of the season by one week.

Conference schools now are permitted to play only nine games and can not play before the last Saturday in September. The coaches suggested permitting play on the next to the last Saturday of the month to make possible an early season "tune-up" game.

The coaches also recommended a rule change to permit the defensive team to advance a recovered fumble, and also suggested standardized field markings with each yard marked off on each sideline and each in-bounds line.

Baker-Valdes Fiasco Boost To Patterson

CLEVELAND — That "Dance of the Elephants" staged Wednesday night by Bob Baker and Nino Valdes seemed today to have boosted another guy—Floyd Patterson, of Brooklyn — into a June shot at the heavyweight crown.

Baker of Pittsburgh, won another decision over Valdes of Cuba in the Cleveland Arena, but the fight was such a boo-provoking farce that both were eliminated as potential challengers.

The cat-calls and strains of "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," had scarcely echoed away in the arena's girders, when it was learned reliably that 21-year-old Patterson, top contender for the light heavyweight crown, has now become the man most likely to challenge Rocky Marciano for the heavyweight championship in June.

Patterson is slated for an important bout tonight in Los Angeles against Jimmy Slade, a "spoiler" who once wrecked the hopes of Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson.

Baker, second-ranking heavy contender and Valdes, number three, not only eliminated themselves Wednesday night, but came close to being tossed out of the ring by Referee Tony La Branche.

"I threatened to throw them out a couple of times," said La Branche, who provided most of the action during the dull 10 rounder that topped the 30th annual Cleveland Christmas Fund show. He was persistently circling them like a terrier and yelling: "Get in there and fight. Come on, you two, fight."

Baker, wearing a mustachio and little goatee and packing 213½ pounds on his six-foot-two frame, won the unanimous decision over taller Valdes, whom he had outpointed in their first fight at Huntington, W. Va., on May 21, 1953. Lofty Nino towered six-feet-three and weighed 207.

Duffy Daugherty Named Football Coach of Year

NEW YORK — Hugh (Duffy) Daugherty, who in his second year on the job guided Michigan State to a Rose Bowl berth, today was chosen football "Coach of the Year" in the annual poll conducted by the New York World-Telegram and Sun and the other Scripps-Howard newspapers.

The 40-year-old Spartan mentor, who didn't get a single vote in last year's balloting, this time rolled up the greatest winning margin in the 21-year history of the poll.

A total of 492 members of the American Football Coaches Assn., took part in the voting and Daugherty received the first-place ballot of 199. A distant second was Bud Wilkinson, coach of Oklahoma's Orange Bowl bound Sooners with 54.

Woody Hayes, coach of Big Ten champion Ohio State, was third with 42 and was followed by Paul Bear Bryant of Texas A & M with 29, Abe Martin of Texas Christian with 26, Johnny Michelson of Pittsburgh with 20, Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech with 13, Art Guepe of Vanderbilt with 12, Jim Tatum of Maryland with 11, Dowden Wyatt of Tennessee with 9, and Terry Brennan of Notre Dame and Ara Parseghian of Miami of Ohio with eight each.

A total of 81 coaches received mention in the ballots, which included first, second, and third choices.

U. S. Army Engineers believe that by 1960 as much coal will move on the Ohio River for industrial use alone as moves today for all uses. In 1953 about 31.7 million tons of industrial coal moved on that river, out of a total Ohio River movement of 62 million tons.

Illinois to Play Missouri in Pre-Conference Tuneup

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — Illinois, 197-75 winner over Butler in season opener Tuesday, meets formidable Missouri at Columbia Saturday night in the second of seven pre-conference tuneups.

Coach Harry Combes, pleased with work of his veteran ball club against the Bulldogs, nevertheless found room for improvement, and stressed defense in practice Wednesday and Thursday.

"Although I didn't feel we worked the ball as well as we might have at times, a team can't score 107 points without doing many things satisfactorily. I was encouraged with the play of the first five. They outscored Butler by 34 points in the 20 minutes I let them work as a unit."

Combes felt that failure of his "bench" to impress was due in great part to "sophomore jitters." Some of the newcomers definitely will help the Illini over the 21 games ahead, he said, emphasizing that their play was about what he had expected.

There will be no lineup changes for the Tigers. Combes felt that the team got an excellent performance from Bruce Brothers, a late starter for regular Bill Altenberger who has been lost indefinitely because of glandular fever. Brothers, a regular last season, was most impressive defensively of the starting quintet, and contributed 14 points.

"Our fast break will not be as effective against taller teams who are able to delay us under the boards," Combes said. "We are going to concentrate more on set patterns, and hope to get in for good close shots as we did Tuesday."

The Illini leave for Columbia by chartered airliner at 1 p. m. Friday, returning to Champaign Sunday morning.

Fear Two Held by Reds to Force Return of Soviet

BERLIN — U. S. authorities asked Russian officials again today for information on two American soldiers who allegedly were arrested in East Berlin for attacking a Communist night club entertainer.

The request was the second made by the United States in 24 hours.

The two soldiers were arrested Wednesday by East Berlin police and turned over to the Soviets. Western officials feared they might be held as hostages in an effort to obtain the release of a Russian officer who fled to the West.

The two Americans were seized Wednesday by East Berlin Communist police as "drunken American gangsters" and turned over to the Soviets in apparent respect of a four-power agreement covering such cases. Western officials said their early return would show Soviet good faith in abiding by the four-power agreements.

Identity of the Americans was still unknown. The Communist Party newspaper Neues Deutschland identified them today as "officers," but indications were they were enlisted men. Pictures of them in the Communist press were too smudged for easy recognition.

One day before the Americans were seized and charged with knocking out the singing star of an anti-American political cabaret in the Russian sector a Soviet tank officer fled to West Berlin.

The officer, 1st Lt. Ivan V. Ovchinnikov, entered the American sector Monday and asked for asylum on political grounds. It was granted and he was flown to West Germany for safekeeping.

Western officials expressed fears the Soviets would demand the return of the Soviet officer and attempt to use the two Americans to bargain for his return. In the past the Soviets have held captured Americans for weeks if their arrest happened to coincide with the desertion of a Soviet soldier.

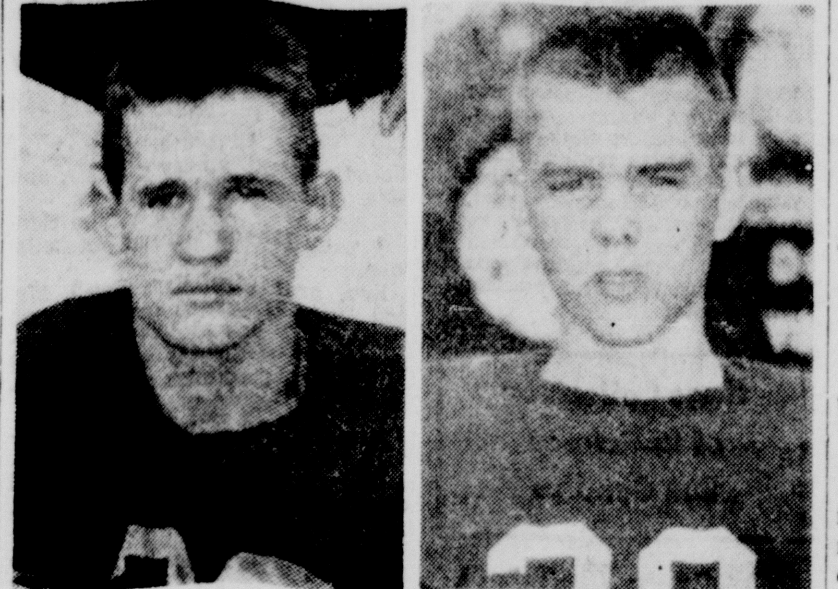

They always released the Americans in the end.

$100,000 in Debt, Robinson Quit Dancing to Fight Again
By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK (NEA)—Believing himself fit to fight well again, Ray Robinson now says pride brought him back to the battlefield and the middleweight championship match with Bobo Olson at the Chicago Stadium, Dec. 9.

Sugar Ray Robinson gave a much more plausible explanation when he launched his comeback in September of last year.

"I'm not broke," the one-time Harlem Hot Shot said then. "I just need finances."

Robinson returned to the wars for the same reason that all old prize fighters take one more fling. A combination of debts, said to encompass $100,000 in taxes, has him once more squaring off with Olson at 35.

Like many other pugilists and people of all lines, Robinson found that it doesn't pay to leave your business in the hands of others. The Sugar Man's ventures are multiple. He has a bar and restaurant, a dry cleaning joint, real estate holdings and what not.

Robinson opened and closed in one as a dancer. The new dodge, in which he could show off without being punched on the nose, was terrific at first — $15,000 a week. No profitable re-bookings showed up, however, and receipts fell off to $4,000 a week.

"With arrangers, agents and the rest of the things a show guy needs, my bookings were netting me less and less," Robinson confides. "I was on the road, away from my business. Since December of 1952, when I went into show business, things had been sliding down the ladder. A European tour last year didn't help."

When he resumed training after six weeks of road work, Robinson discovered that dancers' legs are not fighters' legs. A boxer's legs have to be in shape to move and hold him up for 15 rounds.

Robinson attributes the shellacking he took from Tiger Jones, the old reliable of the television network, to his having left his fight in the gymnasium.

Robinson professes to believe that this beating convinced him he could still fight and go the route.

He refused to hang up his gloves despite the advice of those around him. He was a little better against Ted Olla and Garth Panner, qualified for the crack at the crown he wore so well outgaming dull Rocky Castellani.

In his two outings since, Olson failed to disprove the charge that the ancient and honorable Archie Moore knocked much of the fight out of him.

But he's eight years younger than Robinson and should finally catch up with him after 10 rounds, when the old geezer will begin to suspect that 15 is a marathon.

Like the old thoroughbred horse, Sugar Ray Robinson is now fighting on little more than courage.

He is no more than 40 per cent of what he was and 60 per cent of any fighter is too much to concede even to a marked-down Bobo Olson.

SPRINGFIELD — State Police Supt. Phil M. Brown today said he doesn't know where he will assign suspended Capt. Henry W. Engstrom when Engstrom returns to duty next May.

Brown said he still didn't want to comment on his plans for Engstrom.

"I don't know where he will fit in the picture. The International Association of Chiefs of Police is surveying the department and I won't know just how our staff will be organized until after the survey is finished," Brown said.

Engstrom pleaded guilty Wednesday to charges of failing to make inspections and falsifying inspection reports, abusing subordinates, insubordination, absents himself from his command of the Sterling and Rock Island districts without permission and other breaches of regulations.

The state police merit board which heard the case suspended Engstrom for 180 days starting from Nov. 4, the date he was charged and suspended pending a hearing.

Brown said Wednesday there should be a place "in the central office set-up" for Engstrom, but indicated Engstrom would not have another active command post.

Man Sought for Wife's Death Indicted On Confidence Charge

ROBINSON, Ill. — A Crawford county man sought for questioning about his wife's death has been indicted on a confidence game charge.

A grand jury indicted Glen Apple of Palestine this week on a confidence game charge because he allegedly secured a mortgage on some cows he did not own.

Crawford county authorities already were seeking Apple for questioning about the death of his wife whose body was found in a farm cistern near here in October. Apple and his wife disappeared from their Palestine home May 26 and Apple has not been seen nor heard from since.

Mrs. Apple died of a lung hemorrhage caused by four broken ribs. Two farm boys discovered her body in the abandoned cistern Oct. 26. The body was identified through dental plates and hair samples.

Woman Admits Burying Body of Divorcee Under Basement Floor

CASPER, Wyo. (UPI) — A pudgy matron who buried the body of a young divorcee under her basement floor faced arraignment today on charges she murdered the woman who won away her husband.

The matron, Mrs. Rose Alexander, 42, insisted that Barbara Alexander, 27, was killed accidentally by falling bricks. She said she buried the body with a crude wooden cross because she was afraid the death would be blamed on her.

James Alexander, 47, the husband who fathered three children by Rose and one by Barbara, claimed he did not know Barbara was dead and buried in his basement when he poured concrete on the floor in 1953.

The body, wrapped in a sheet and packed in mortar, was found Thursday. Across the skeleton lay a crude wooden cross made out of two laths.

Mrs. Alexander, who confessed burying the body herself, said she added the grisly cross to the grave as a "religious observance."

Alexander watched authorities tear up the basement floor and said after being confronted with the evidence of a crime that he had assumed since July 19, 1953, that Barbara had made good her threat to leave him. He said he never suspected that she was dead.

A coroner's jury Wednesday rejected Mrs. Alexander's story of Barbara being killed by falling bricks and ruled that she died "due to a skull fracture caused by a blow or blows inflicted by a person or persons unknown."

Temperatures Jump, Then Drop

By United Press

Temperatures jumped and dipped like a yo-yo in much of the nation's West and Midwest today.

They jumped into the 40s and 50s during Wednesday's warm spell, only to drop as much as 23 degrees when cold Arctic air from the north, plus a Pacific cool front, moved in.

The cool-off spread as far east as the eastern Great Lakes and averaged 10 to 15 degrees in the central Rockies and Upper Mississippi Valley.

Pledge Justice In Shotgun Slaying of Negro

GLENDORA, Miss. (AP) — Civic-minded whites pledged today that justice will prevail in the shotgun slaying of one of this community's "finest" Negroes by a white man near the spot where Emmett Till was believed slain.

Lee McGarrh, white service station operator, told Sheriff H. C. Strider that Elmer Kimbell, cotton gin manager, fired from his car at the Negro, Clinton Melton, after a dispute last Saturday night.

Strider said Kimbell claimed Melton shot and wounded him first with a pistol but McGarrh told Strider, "I don't know how Mr. Kimbell got the flesh wound in his shoulder but I do know Clinton didn't have a gun."

The Tallahatchie county sheriff said he found no trace of a pistol. Strider investigated one phase of the notorious "wolf whistle" murder case in which two white men were acquitted of kidnapping and murdering a 14-year-old Negro boy visiting from Chicago.

A body identified as Till's but never conclusively accepted as such by the trial jury was found in the Tallahatchie river not far from this farming community in the Mississippi "Delta" area.

Kimbell has been charged with murdering Melton and is being held in nearby Charleston pending a hearing. Strider said Kimbell "is not talking much about the case."

The pledge to "see that the forces of justice and right prevail in the wake of this awful evil" was expressed in a resolution adopted by the Glendora Lions Club Wednesday.

Truckers Arrested By Missouri Police

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Missouri state police have arrested more than 100 truck drivers for truck overweights or improper licensing during the past week.

Most of the arrests were in the St. Louis vicinity. They included 12 truck drivers from Ohio, which recently cancelled a reciprocal agreement with Missouri which permitted trucks from both states to operate freely in either.

Ohio now collects an axle tax of one-half cent per mile for all trucks with three or more axles.

The Ohio truckers were charged with not having Missouri licenses, but most of the others were arrested on overweight charges.

Arrest 5 Negroes Playing Golf On 'Private' Course

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP) — Five of six Greensboro Negroes, who played nine holes of golf on a "private" course for white people, were arrested Wednesday night and charged with trespassing.

They were ordered to appear in Municipal Court Dec. 20.

Gillespie Park golf professional Ernest Edwards said the six requested permission to play the course but were told by an assistant at the club house the course was limited to members only.

Edwards, who was not at the course at the time, said the assistant told him the Negroes placed their green fees on the counter and began playing anyway.

When he arrived, Edwards said he went out on the course and asked the Negroes to leave. They refused and he took their names and called police.

President Hopes For Success of Seal Campaign

President Dwight D. Eisenhower has given his best wishes for the success of the 1955 Christmas Seal sale to raise funds to fight a disease which is "attacking approximately 100,000 persons a year in the United States."

Mrs. Naida Seright Upchurch, of the Saline County Tuberculosis association, has announced the content of the message, sent by the President from Gettysburg, Pa., to the National Tuberculosis association.

"The Christmas Seal sale is a forceful reminder that tuberculosis, a preventable disease, is attacking approximately 100,000 persons a year in the United States."

"There are about 1,000,000 persons who have tuberculosis in its active and inactive forms, and many times that number with tuberculosis infection that may eventually lead to disease. We have drugs which help the tuberculosis victim recover, but our goal should be to prevent his becoming a victim in the first place. It is a goal which can be attained with the expenditure of greater effort."

"To the National Tuberculosis association and its affiliates, and all who further the year-round work to combat this disease, I extend congratulations with my best wishes for the success of this year's Christmas Seal campaign."

Mrs. Upchurch also announces the following purchases of $5 or more seals and bonds during the current campaign:

Arpaia Named ICC Chairman

WASHINGTON 7P — The Interstate Commerce Commission today elected Anthony F. Arpaia, a Connecticut Democrat, as its chairman for 1956.

Arpaia will succeed acting Chairman J. Monroe Johnson under the commission's system of rotating its chairmanship annually on a seniority basis.

Monroe became acting chairman last month when Chairman Hugh W. Cross resigned from the ICC under fire. Senate investigators had questioned Cross on a possible "conflict of interest" in his relations with Chicago transport interests.

IT HAPPENED IN SOUTHERN ILLINOIS:

An Incredible Tale--Part Two

JOHN W. ALLEN
Southern Illinois University

The ease with which 25-year-old Colonel George Rogers Clark with a force of 175 men wrested control of the Illinois country and of Post Vincennes from the British in the summer of 1778 was amazing. It could have amazed even Clark himself.

About five months later, however, Governor Hamilton in the British post at Detroit struck back. He led a force of British soldiers and Indian allies totaling about 800, against the American garrison that had dwindled to only two men when Hamilton arrived and retook Vincennes. This was in mid-December, and winter had begun. Flood water covered much of the bottom lands and flat prairies between Vincennes and Kaskaskia, where Clark's forces were centered. Hamilton therefore decided that an expedition against the American forces would not be advisable before spring. Indian allies were dismissed, and many of the soldiers returned to Detroit to await more suitable weather for campaigning.

With Hamilton in possession of Vincennes, the plight of the Americans could easily become hopeless. After conferences with his officers, Clark decided that he must attack and retake Vincennes immediately or lose control of the country.

180-Mile March

This decision launched one of history's most storied military adventures. Though thoroughly documented and proven, the story of that 180-mile march from Kaskaskia to Vincennes across the flooded prairies and woodlands of southern Illinois remains almost incredible. Had George Rogers Clark done nothing else, this one expedition would have assured him a niche in history.

On February 1, 1799, preparations for the expedition against Vincennes were begun. A "gallery or bateau" which they called the Willing was readied and placed under the command of Lt. Rogers. It was, until then, the most heavily armed boat that had appeared on the western rivers. With its crew of 46 men, the Willing left Kaskaskia at two o'clock on the afternoon of February 4, laden with ammunition and supplies that Clark would need when he reached Vincennes.

The next afternoon Clark crossed the Kaskaskia River with a force of 170 artillerymen, pack-horsemen, LONGKNIVES from Kentucky, and French militia recruited locally. On the first night they encamped about three miles east of the town. The night was "rainy and drizzly" and there were no tents. March was resumed on the morning of the 7th when they traveled "9 leagues" over roads "very bad with mud and water." Next day they marched "thro' the water . . . in those large and level plains." On the 9th "it rained most of the day." A day later they "crossed the river of (Pettit) Ford upon trees we felled for that purpose." It was "still raining and no tents." On the 12th they marched across flooded prairies where they saw and killed numbers of "buffaloes . . . the men much fatigued."

Still Raining

On February 13 they arrived at the two Waabashes that "altho' a league . . . A Sunday now make but one." They finished a canoe and on the fifteenth "ferryed . . . across five miles of water to opposite hills." It was "still raining." On the 16th they "marched all day thro' Rain and Water . . . our provisions began to grow short." On the 17th they "travelled till 8th O'clock in mud and water but could find no place to encamp on." They finally found the "Water fallen from a small point of ground" and "staid there the remainder of the Night . . . Drizzly and dark weather." On the 18th "at Break of day heard Hamilton's morning gun." The water became deeper, the weather colder. Men were "starving . . . cast down . . . no provisions of any sort . . . two days of hard fortune." The next day "the camp was very quiet, but hungry." The men were openly murmuring and there was talk of turning back. On the 21st they "plunged into the water, sometimes to the neck, for more than one league." Rain all this day no provisions. On the 22nd "Col. Clark encourages his men which gave them great Spirits." They heard the evening and morning guns from the fort but there were "no provisions yet, lord help us."

The next day, February 23rd, they crossed a plain "about four miles long covered with water breast high." It was now bitter cold, sheets of ice "having froze in the night." About "One O'clock we came in Sight of the Town (and) halted on a small Nole of dry land." From a captured duck hunter Clark learned that his approach was unsuspected. He sent a letter into the town warning the citizens of danger should they resist and sternly advised them to stay in their homes. At sundown Clark's men marched into the town. At 8 o'clock they began to fire on the fort. "Not one of our men wounded. Seven Men of the Fort badly wounded."

Meat Raiding Party

On the next day, February 24th, "About 9 O'clock the Col. sent a flag to Govr. Hamilton. The firing then ceased during which time our Men was provided with a Breakfast it being the only meal of Victuals since the 18 Inst." While deliberation was going on between Clark and Hamilton, a raiding party returned from an assault on the Kentucky settlements, bringing scalps and two prisoners with them. Clark's men learned of this returning party and met them outside the town. Several were killed and others were taken prisoners. Four of the ones captured were taken to a spot in full view of the fort where they were tomahawked and their bodies thrown into the river. This act may have had its effects. The next day Hamilton accepted Clark's terms and surrendered Fort Sackville. Two days later the Willing arrived.

Vincennes and the Illinois country remained in the possession of the colonies. The Old Northwest became a part of America. The story of the mid-winter's march of the 170 men across Illinois became an American legend. But long years of misfortune, apparent ingratitude, neglect, dire poverty and shattered health lay ahead for George Rogers Clark.

Girl Admits Killing Playmate

MANCHESTER, Ky. (AP)—A 19-year-old mountain girl, with the mind of a child, confessed Tuesday to choking a 10-year-old playmate to death and throwing her body in a well.

after several hours of questioning how she killed Jewell Smith. "I killed Jewell because I got mad at her and she tried to fight me. I don't feel a bit sorry," said Miss Grubb, who was dressed in blue jeans and a soldier's blouse with master sergeant's stripes on the sleeves. The girl's body was found Monday night in a 20-foot well in the isolated Bright Shade Mountain Country about 20 miles from here. The Daily Register 25c a week by carrier boy.

Stratton Wins New Hat from Indiana Governor

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Illinois motorists won a new Stetson hat for Gov. William G. Stratton, state Safe-Driving Day Director Carl Miller has announced officially.

Stratton wagered the hat with Indiana Gov. George N. Craig on which state would have the better S-D Day traffic record.

There was some confusion over the number of Illinois deaths, however, since the governor told a news conference Illinois had two deaths on S-D Day while Miller announced Illinois had one to Indiana's three.

Enjoy making this Clabber Girl...

Gingerbread upside down cake

A dessert to be remembered, this new and different gingerbread. Notice the delightful flavor variations suggested by the recipe ingredients. Spectacular, you will say, but a fine chance to show how good your baking can be.

UPSIDE DOWN GINGERBREAD Yield: 4-6 servings

- 1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted
- 1/4 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 4 slices canned pineapple, drained
- 4 to 8 maraschino cherries, drained
- 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 2 teaspoons Clabber Girl Baking Powder
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons ground ginger
- 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon ground allspice
- 1/4 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/4 cup shortening
- 1/2 cup beet or cane sugar
- 1 egg
- 1/4 cup dark molasses
- 1/4 cup milk

Spread melted butter or margarine in bottom of oiled or greased 8x8x2-inch pan. Spread brown sugar on top. Arrange pineapple slices (whole or cut) and maraschino cherries in pattern on top of sugar. Sift together flour, baking powder, spices, and soda. Cream together shortening and sugar until fluffy. Beat in egg and molasses. Stir in sifted dry ingredients and milk alternately, a little of each at a time. Spread on top of pineapple. Bake at 350° F. (moderate oven) about 50 minutes. Let stand for 5 minutes in pan. Turn upside down on serving plate. Cut in squares or oblongs, and serve with sweetened whipped cream.

Don't let yourself forget how easy and how good your baking can be (with Clabber Girl, of course).

ICC Hears Objections to Proposal To Boost Coal Rates To Chicago Area

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission heard objections today to a proposal to increase rates on fine coal shipped from Illinois, Indiana, and western Kentucky to the Chicago area.

The proposal was made last August by two hearing examiners from the ICC and the Illinois Commerce Commission. They held that present rates are too low as the result of cuts of about 65 cents a ton made by the railroads a year ago.

Unemployment Shows Increase For November

WASHINGTON (AP)—The number of persons in jobs fell by 354,000 last month to 64,807,000, the government reported today.

Despite the drop, the total of employed persons was a record for November.

Unemployment rose by 267,000 persons to 2,398,000. The Commerce and Labor departments said both the employment decline and the jobless rise were usual for this time of year when colder weather curtails farm, construction, and other outdoor work.

The departments reported that total non-farm employment also was at a record high for the month. It was up from October. The increase in this category was due to a rise in factory employment, which usually declines in November, and to the seasonal pickup in trade employment before Christmas.

This rise was more than offset by large cutbacks in farm, construction, and food processing.

Total employment of all kinds was more than 3,000,000 above that of November, 1954. The jobless total was almost 500,000 below a year ago.

The Burlington initiated the cut to meet competition from barge lines hauling coal from southern Illinois. A number of other railroads followed suit but objected to the reduction.

The two examiners recommended either an increase of both rail and barge rates or a smaller increase in rail rates alone.

Spokesmen for the Midwest coal producers urged the commission to leave rail rates at their present level. They denied a contention by the examiner that current rates will tend to destroy barge competition in hauling coal. J. Alfred Moran of the Northern Indiana Coal Traffic Bureau said barge coal tonnage has gone up since the rate cut went into effect.

William M. Maddox, spokesman for eastern coal producers, urged the ICC to allow similar cuts in rail rates from the eastern coal fields if it finds the rate reductions from the Midwest fields are justified. The spokesman said eastern producers may be "pushed out of the Chicago market unless they get comparable rates."

New Super-Refined GAS-OIL TEAM gives you

... per gallon ... per quart

DIRTY-BURNING TAIL-END

NEW GULF NO-NOX

Gulf No-Nox Gasoline burns clean

Here's proof: Note the black deposit, on plate at left, caused by the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline—the plate which Gulf refines out in making New Super-Refined NO-NOX. But see how clean new NO-NOX leaves the plate at right. Now—in your own car—see how new NO-NOX can give more miles per gallon in the kind of short-trip, stop-and-go driving you do most.

Gulfpride Select Oil works clean

Here's why: Most conventional oils are refined only to the stage shown in A. But New Gulfpride Select is further refined by the Alchlor Process—removing up to 15% more of the carbon-formers, in B... C contains the new super-refined oil that gives you more miles per quart because it has natural viscosity (body)—contains no artificial thickeners that break down in service.

REMEMBER: No gasoline alone can give you today's finest performance... no oil alone can give you today's finest protection. Get the new super-power gas-oil team...
